

Friday 24th June 2016, Lecture Theatre 2, Chaucer Building

0930 - 1000	Registration with coffee and pastries
1000 - 1015	Welcome to the conference – Professor Janine Griffiths Baker, Dean of Nottingham Law School
1015 - 1030	Introductory Address – His Honour Judge Jo Cooper
1030 - 1100	‘Aspiring to inspire : student engagement and advocacy.’ – Alan Birbeck
1100 - 1130	‘Assessing skills - a student perspective of live assessments.’ – Nicola Harris
1130 -1200	Coffee Break
1200 - 1230	‘The future of advocacy training in respect of expert evidence. No more ‘laissez-faire’?’ – Gemma Davies, Adam Jackson & Emma Piasecki
1230 - 1300	‘The vulnerable witness training programme.’ – His Honour Judge Rook QC and Lynda Gibbs
1300 - 1400	Lunch
1400 - 1500	Keynote address: ‘Teaching advocacy in 2016 and beyond: a paradigm shift or rhetoric just ain’t what it used to be.’ – Professor John Sonsteng
1500 - 1530	Tea break
1530 - 1600	‘Using technology to enhance advocacy skills instructor training’ – Kenneth Robinson QC and David Parrett
1600 - 1700	‘Developing an effective pedagogy for the delivery of asynchronous advocacy courses.’ – Charles H Rose

Saturday 25th June 2016, Lecture Theatre 2, Chaucer Building

0930 - 1000	Registration with coffee and pastries
1000 - 1030	'The gentle art of persuasion in fragile states.' – Karen Squibb-Williams
1030 - 1100	'The work of Advocacy Africa.' – Steve Fury
1100 - 1145	'Going forward by looking back: advocacy training using transcripts from historical trials.' – Charles Dewey Cole
1145 - 1200	Coffee break
1200 - 1245	'Professional Ethics; what do we teach and how do we teach it?' – Derek Wood QC
1245 - 1330	Lunch
1330 - 1430	Keynote address – "When the adversarial and inquisitorial systems met" : the challenges of advocacy training in International Criminal Tribunals' – Her Honour Judge Joanna Korner CMG QC
1430 - 1500	'Teaching case concept. – Iain Morley QC
1500 - 1515	Tea break
1515 - 1545	'Teaching advocacy in the workplace.' – Jane Jarman and Fiona Carter
1545 - 1600	Closing Remarks - His Honour Judge Michael Stokes QC – The Honorary Recorder of Nottingham