

Research in the School of Social Sciences

Research in the School of Social Sciences is reflected in 11 cross-departmental, and in some instances, cross-discipline research themes as follows:

- Addiction and aberrant behaviours
- Brain behaviour and cognition
- Crime reduction
- Education, policy and practice
- Interactive and assistive technologies
- Lifespan development
- Mental health and well-being
- Promoting social and democratic inclusion and transformation
- Public and occupational health
- Safety and security of societies
- Transport and environment

Pedagogical innovation is a cross-University theme

We welcome applications from potential research students to our School. If you would like further information about how your proposed area of study connects with the research interests and expertise of our academic staff please contact the named person for the discipline areas listed below:
