

Where can a degree in Education Studies take me?

...back to school through teaching

...creating learning environments as a special needs teacher

...into further education as a tutor or lecturer

...working with the community as an education officer

...managing staff and performance in school administration or leadership

...inspiring the next generation as a careers or personal adviser

...learning from the past with museum education projects

...helping others through social work

...using your presentation skills in training and development

Our graduates have gone on to successful careers in many of these areas.
