Welcome

As the Vice-Chancellor – the Chief Executive – of Nottingham Trent University (NTU), I want to congratulate you on your graduation.

Today is your day, a time to reflect on your achievements. It is also a moment to recognise the people who have supported you along the way: your friends; your family members; and your tutors. They will be watching with pride, having invested so much in your journey.

I am proud of our University, as I am proud of you. And, just as you have undergone your own personal transformation during your time with us in preparation for your next steps, so too has your University. We have invested to continue providing the first-class facilities and Gold standard teaching which have repeatedly earned us recognition and awards.

The £44m Design & Digital Arts building opened this term, driving the growth of the creative and digital industries in Nottingham. On our Clifton Campus, our recently commissioned Institute of Health and Allied Professions features mock hospital wards, consultation and counselling rooms, and specialist equipment. Our new Postgraduate Centre at the heart of Nottingham city centre creates a distinct and distinguished space for students continuing their studies. The NTU University Centre in Mansfield continues to expand its range of facilities to meet the skills needs of local employers.

You are now members of our alumni community. Our doors remain open to all our graduates around the world. Keep in touch with us, because our support extends well beyond the completion of your course. As NTU alumni, you have access to dedicated employability support, as well as a range of exclusive events and networking opportunities.

As your career gathers pace, think too of the ways in which you could inspire future generations of students by joining our Alumni and Industry Fellowship Programme, offering guest lectures and mentoring, placement opportunities, and careers guidance. In time, you might choose to help fund our scholarships, bursaries, and research. Visit ntu.ac.uk/alumni for more details.

Today, however, is a time to focus on the present. We applaud your successes. We are excited for your futures. Congratulations again and enjoy your graduation.

Professor Edward Peck CBE
Vice-Chancellor

Nottingham Trent University (NTU) is an outstanding institution, and one that I am proud to serve as Chancellor. I echo Professor Peck's words in extending my heartfelt congratulations to all of today's graduates. I feel immense pride in having witnessed the University's growth in reputation and impact across the last two decades.

Through nationally recognised teaching, award-winning support services, and fantastic opportunities in and outside of the classroom, NTU offers a truly transformative experience to our students. Beyond our campuses we continue to make vital economic, civic, and cultural contributions to the city, the region, and the wider world. It is my belief that NTU's ideals – its commitment to social mobility, its pioneering research, and its 'sustainability-first' agenda – represent everything that a modern university can and should be.

The University does not stand still. It continues to adapt so that our students are prepared for work or further study in an ever-changing world.

Our ambitions for the future are clear: to continue enhancing the scope and scale of our impact; and to serve as an ever more powerful force for social good. Our students, friends, partners and you, one of our latest set of alumni, have important roles to play in achieving these goals.

Following today's celebrations, our hard work continues. I am encouraged by our progress and excited by the promise of our future.
